Description

You seriously haven't been here? It is a serious mistake that should be fixed as soon as possible! Rivers, loved by experienced kayakers. Bukowina – tributary of Łupawa, it can check your kayaking skills and strength, which are useful for you completing the part of the route scheduled for the first day. It will also provide you with many positive emotions and fun. You will have the opportunity to have fun thanks to many fallen trees located in the riverbed, but, surprisingly, at the end, when you may be lacking strength, there will be some difficulties to overcome. You will have to decide how to overcome the trees, but you must bear in mind that the completion of this section will certainly make you tired. In the very morning you will get an adrenaline rush - as the braver ones with good equipment can try to jumping off the valve - just remember that you should examine the water level of the river first to later bring only good memories back home. The second day involves rapid tempo, characterized by very strong and long rapids and waves getting into the canoe, decorated with foam here and there due to the fumbling of water. You'll have to hit the empty spaces between the trees, although Łupawa offers places to contemplate the landscape as well.
