Description

One could say was "Something for everyone". This two-day-long trip consists of two diverse parts – quiet and a fast one. If you have friends who enjoy radically different forms of kayaking, it is something for them. The first day - the way to Łupawa - will allow you to embrace the beauty of the surrounding landscape, watch the birds, which frequently occur near the lake you are about to pass. You are the one who chooses the pace of trip, because how quickly you will find yourself at the end of this section depends on you and your paddling. You can relax in the sun stresslessly on the lake and relax and admire the beauty of the Kashubian nature and glacial lake, that is Lake Łupawsko you are to pass.

Only the last 2 km are the introduction to canoeing in rivers and prelude to the upcoming day. The second day gives you the opportunity to get used to canoeing on the river first. It starts quietly and innocently, but this is only the beginning ... What you will remember is the fast current, slalom between fallen trees, amazing long and strong rapids, which often form the waves breaking on your kayak. You will be out of breath due to emotions provided by Łupawa and a smile will appear on your face - although you won't realize this until you reach Łupawa. You have to decide yourselves if you are up for it or not.
