Description

You will not find a second river like this one in Pomerania. Extremely wild, rarely visited river will provide individuals with canoeing experienced with unusual excitement. You will test your reflexes here as well as the ability to read the water and the ability to canoe as powerful and fast rapids at different depths found in riverbed filled with trees and bushes will force you to focus and make decisions fast. Because the river is narrow canoeists are forced to use all the canoeing skills since there's no place to hide - you either handle it or not. Just one small mistake, one place that on the surface appears to be easy to overcome and you can end up in water. Here you can test your skills. Maniacs - canoeists fond of adrenaline, fun on fallen trees and a fantastic fatigue after a good busy day will end this section with smiles on their faces. We guarantee you will come back! We know this from experience;-)
